Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	HORSELAND is an animated series about five girls and two boys who live in spectacular countryside that houses a farm called Horseland. Each of these main characters has a special horse whose personality is similar to its owner's. Horseland and its unique approach of integrating the personality of the main characters and animals serve to reinforce prosocial themes. Horseland is also a "coming of age" series in which viewers experience and learn from the social interactions, hopes, dreams, and even fears of this group of culturally diverse adolescents. From this background, the experiences of sharing, caring, compromise, friendship, respect, and competition emerge to provide the young viewers with social and emotional guidelines for better understanding many of the life-lessons they need to learn as they grow and develop. This program is specifically designed to further the educational and informational needs of children, has educating and informing children as a significant purpose, and otherwise meets the definition of Core Programming as specified in the Commission's rules.

Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F.R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	WDEF aired PSAs which were of benefit to youth during the 1st quarter of 2012. A complete listing of PSAs which aired during this quarter can be found in our station public file. The station co-sponsored several events which ultimately benefited children and their families. One such event was Flower Fest a fund raiser for First Things First where flowers and gift baskets were sold for Valentines. FTF is an organization which is dedicated to strengthening families in Hamilton County, TN through education, collaboration and mobilization. Tennessee ranked 4th in the nation for divorce in 2002, and Hamilton County Teenagers (ages 10-17)accounted for 242 births. FTF offers various education programs to the community to encourage and support young people and families make better decisions and encourage parental involvement in the lives of their children. Another event co-sponsored with the Medical Foundation of Chattanooga and WDEF was Denim and Diamonds Gala. The proceeds of this event went to benefit Project Access. Project Access provides free medical care for the uninsured in Hamilton County and and has been recognized nationally for its work. Project Access has helped co-ordinate millions of dollars in donated healthcare services since 2004. WDEF also provides young people between 9 and 13 years of age the opportunity to be a kidcaster for a day. This exposes children to an educational experience behind the scenes of a television station. Children write a paragraph and send to the station saying why they would like to give the weather forecast on TV. Each week one young person is chosen and he/she comes to the station and spends time with our meteorologist learning how weather information is gathered and presented on the air. The kidcaster tapes a brief forecast and this forecast is aired during our late newscast on Monday nights and Morning News on Tuesdays. Another segment which WDEF airs weekly is What Is Right With Our Schools. This segment highlights positive elements happening within our schools. Each Monday during our 6pm newscast News anchor, John Mercer airs What Is Right With Our Schools and features educators, students, individuals or community groups which work with the students/schools in an extraordinary manner to go above and beyond the norm in helping to educate children through life lessons. A few examples of the stories which aired during the first quarter are: McMinn Gospel Choir-For the last 4 years under the direction of music teacher Mrs. Sarah Dalbey, the students at McMinn County High School have started a high school Gospel Choir. They started as a very small group of about 8-10 and have grown to about 80-90 students this year. This group is made up of students who volunteer their time and efforts to be in this group. They have performed at various local venues and churches around town setting a good example of what is right with our kids. Another Whats Right With Our Schools segment featured Ridgeland High School. The school proves its grooming the next generation of science and math whizzes. The school was just awarded a $691,000 STEM grant. That stands for science, technology, engineering and math. Ridgeland High school students and staff designed a high-tech fish hatchery with vegetation. A solar operated robot checks water quality and temperature 24-seven. Another story followed a group of local students from Notre Dame High School and how they received a live history lesson in literacy and the civil rights movement. The students visited with residents of the Mary Walker Towers, a low income housing unit with mostly senior citizens. One of the Mary Walkers residents has learned to read at 100. Ex. Director of the Mary Walker Towers Foundation, Vilutis Edwards, Sr. remembered the civil rights movement and the rough experiences endured during that era. He stated there was a lot of disadvantages, obstacles they had to overcome, and encouraged everyone not to forget about the past, so t
